Health, Insurance and Recommended Vaccinations

Travelers are recommended to ensure that all statutory vaccinations are up to date prior to travel to Kenya.

- A Yellow Fever vaccination certificate may be required if you are travelling to or transiting through a country that requires a yellow fever certificate for travellers from Kenya.
    - Please also note that some countries require travellers to present a valid Yellow Fever vaccination certificate if they have recently visited Kenya. We strongly recommend checking the latest entry and vaccination requirements with your own country's official travel advice and health authorities before travelling, as requirements can vary.
- Preventative treatment and protective measures against Malaria are recommended.
- Travel and medical insurance: Comprehensive travel and medical insurance is mandatory for all travellers and is not included in your safari quotation. We strongly recommend that your personal travel insurance provides adequate cover for emergency medical treatment, evacuation, repatriation, trip cancellation, and theft or loss of personal belongings.

  Please note: Kenya now requires most non-Kenyan visitors to hold mandatory Inbound Travel Health Insurance before entering the country. For travellers who require an Electronic Travel Authorisation (eTA), this insurance is purchased as part of the official eTA application process.

  You can apply for your eTA and find the latest entry requirements through the official Kenya eTA website: Kenya Electronic Travel Authorisation (eTA).

  Travellers who are exempt from the eTA requirement may still be required to purchase the mandatory Kenyan health insurance separately through the official Kenya eCitizen Inbound Travel Health Insurance portal.

  The mandatory Kenyan policy is a separate entry requirement and may provide limited cover. We therefore strongly recommend maintaining comprehensive independent travel insurance to ensure you have appropriate protection for your individual travel needs. Requirements and exemptions can change, so all travellers should check the latest official information before travelling.

Health recommendations may vary slightly between countries, so travellers should consult their doctor or a travel health clinic well in advance of departure. For official guidance, please refer to your national health authority or the European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control.
